

CHEAPEST PAINT IN THE WORLD

Paint Devco; it's cheapest paint in the world; never mind the price; it may or may not be more. Less gallons will paint the house; and the paint will outwear anything.

Skip wear; you've got to wait, to find that out. It covers more; you haven't got to wait to find that out. It's the cheapest of all; no matter about the price.

Mr. Frank A. Morse, West Rutland, Vt. says: "An old painter, who had painted my house lead-and-oil a good many times, said 12 to 15 gallons Devco." I got 15; it took 6 1/2, with 1 1/2 of oil.

Mr. William Maughan, Central Rutland, Vt. bought 9; had 3 left. That's how.

LESLIE BOOSTS
WEST VIRGINIA

Southern Prosperity Number Contains Article by Governor Glasscock.

In the Southern Prosperity number of Leslie's Weekly to be issued Thursday appears the following article by Governor William E. Glasscock concerning West Virginia:

West Virginia, situated within the very heart of the population and wealth of this country, rich in natural resources, offers to enterprise and capital a most inviting field, and that this is known and appreciated is evidenced by the fact that she is attracting both from all parts of the world. Her development within the last decade has far exceeded the expectations of the most sanguine, and yet the morning of her greatness is just dawning, her inexhaustible resources are only touched.

With a population of one and a quarter million, she is just beginning to realize the great things which are in store for her. Her natural facilities for becoming a great farming and industrial commonwealth. Her climate, free from the extreme rigors of winter and the sultry, humid heat of summer, is unsurpassed by that of any other state. Upon her soil grows nearly every grain and vegetable indigenous to the temperate zone. Her apple and peach orchards are the finest and most productive in the world. Fruit growing is now the leading business in many parts of the state, and West Virginia is soon destined to take first place in this industry. With the breaking up of the great sheep and cattle ranches in the West, the sheep and cattle growers are looking for new fields, and no better place can be found than West Virginia for this great industry. She produces more blue grass than the famous Blue Grass state, and there are yet six million acres untouched, a large percentage of which could be utilized for grazing purposes.

West Virginia's greatest source of wealth at present is in her coal, oil, gas and timber. She has a greater coal area than Pennsylvania or Illinois, and the quality of her coal is the very best. She ranks second in this great industry, producing nearly one-sixth of all the bituminous coal mined in the United States. New fields of oil and gas are constantly being developed. As a manufacturing state West Virginia ranks high. With her inexhaustible supply of coal, gas and timber, her close proximity to the great markets and her facilities for transportation, she will soon become a veritable hive of industry.

Her colleges and schools rank with the best of any other state and are liberally supported by her people. Her laws are wise and just and her rate of taxation on the hundred dollars' valuation is lower than that of any other state in the union. West Virginia is forging to the front along every line which makes a state great and prosperous, and her citizens are building for themselves a state whose institutions and citizenship will be equal to that of any other community on earth, whose homes will be filled with a happy, virtuous and contented people.

Major George O. Squier Has Invented Multiple Telephone

Copyright by American Press Association.

MAJOR GEORGE O. SQUIER, assistant chief signal officer of the United States army, has invented a multiple system of telephoning by which it is possible for two, four or perhaps a score of persons to talk over the same wire at the same time without interfering with one another or causing any mixing in messages. The system that Major Squier has invented is somewhat similar to that successfully used for some years by telegraph lines. But the difficulties of telephoning have been greater than those of telegraphing, and efforts to apply the principles to the telephone have heretofore proved unsuccessful, though many inventors have puzzled their brains over it. Major Squier in announcing his success said that he had solved the problem while working for the people and that the invention belonged to the people and that he would not patent it with any view of gaining personal profit.

AMERICA TRIUMPHS OVER EUROPE'S SPEED

As Shown by the Feats of National Automobiles the Last Few Days.

The time was when the American speedster must look to Europe for his craft, but all is different now. Vanadium, chrome and nickel steel, coupled with persistent and successful efforts to improve and refine where Europe makers rested content, have resulted in American supremacy.

The defeat of the Jenatz Mercedes, the speed marvel of Europe, with its power of 250 unleashed horses under the hood, by an American car—a National 60—is indicative of the great progress made by American makers.

Driving without strain to man, or car, "Howdy" Wilcox the Indianapolis pilot, hurled his throbbing National 60 from a standing start to victory in the five mile free-for-all March 29, over the Atlantic-Pablo course in 3:18.27. In the last half mile he passed the 250 horse power Mercedes, driven by Burman, and flashed by the checkered flag a full second ahead, at an average pace of 93 1-3 miles per hour.

But not content with one international victory and moved by the yearning for more plaudits from the crowd, Wilcox put over another speed classic Thursday, when he broke the world's record for one mile stock chassis straightaway event. Clinging to the wheel of his big blue 4 cylinder stock National 40 certified stock chassis registration No. 311 he made the distance in 40.22 seconds, faster by .23 seconds than Barney Oldfield negotiated the same distance in a Knox six cylinder last year over the Ormond-Daytona course.

In addition to these two spectacular performances Wilcox added more victories to his string, winning the ten mile free-for-all in 7.00 flat, and the ten mile handicap in 6.59 on the second day's program. On the third day "Howdy" put another willow to his hood by winning the five mile straightaway beach championship for stock chassis, 301 to 450 cu. in. in 3.56.82 in a certified stock chassis National 40 registration number 311. No to be outdone in speed or glory by his teammate of the National squadron, Charlie Morz put up a contest of class by winning the 20-mile open, 600 cu. in. or less race in 14.58.43 with a National 40, defeating the Special Pope-Hartford, Dishow driving.
